

Thank you very much.

Our next Louie Armstrong hit was recorded 3 years later - in 1959. Once again, the song was from another country, this time the country of France, and was written in 1945. The first recording was by the great French artist, Edith Piaf, who had composed the lyrics to the song written by Luois Guglielmi. Later, many other artists recorded the song, but Louie's recording in 1959 still remains today as one of the great versions.

Here we go with a beautiful ballad - "La Vie En Rose."