

Thank you.

For our final Ethel Merman hit song, we'll move forward in time to 1959 and the musical "Gypsy," the great hit of Stephen Sondheim and Jules Styne. It's performed right at the end of the first act of the show, and really shows off Miss Merman's brassy booming voice.

Here we go with that great hit of this great star - "Everything's Coming Up Roses."

Enjoy!