

Thank you. Thank you very much. So, how was that? Did you enjoy our tribute to the great Ethel Merman? Great!

Speaking of stars, our next song has the word "star" in it's title. It was written back in 1935 for the musical called "Broadway Melody of 1936." The song was the debut of a young starlet by the name of Eleanor Powell. Remember Eleanor? The film also starred Jack Benny and Robert Taylor.

Here's _____ to sing our version of "You Are My Lucky Star."
