

Thank you. How are we doing? Are you enjoying your trip down Memory Lane?

Our next song is a rhythm and blues song first recorded back in 1959 about a city that is situated on the Missouri River on the border between Kansas and Missouri. Anyone care to guess the name of this city? Right - Kansas City. The song has been recorded by a whole host of artists, including Little Richard, The Beatles, Herman's Hermits, Peggy Lee, Bill Haley & His Comets, Fats Domino, Trini Lopez, and James Brown.

It's now the official song of the Kansas City Royals and the Beatles version is played over the loudspeakers at Kauffman Stadium whenever the Royals win the game.

Here's _____ to tell you all about this famous metropolis - Kansas City!
