

Good evening. We're so very glad to be back with you again. It's always a fun time for us when we come to play for you here.

Tonight, we're again going take you down memory lane and revisit some of the biggest hit songs from yesteryear. And we'll be asking you some questions about the songs, so put on your thinking caps and let's get ready to rumble.

Our opening selection was "The Best Things In Life Are Free." It was written way back in 1927 by Lew Brown, Ray Henderson, and Buddy De Sylva for the show "Good News" that ran for nearly two years on Broadway.

We'll switch gears for our next selection. It was written much later, in 1954. Wow! I'm not sure what you were doing then, but I was just graduating from high school. Anyhow, a great artist of that era recorded it. His name was Nat King Cole. Remember Nat? The song spent 20 weeks on the Billboard charts of pop music.

Here we go with _____ singing "A Blossom Fell."
