

Thank you.

For our final selection in recognition of this Easter season, we'll go back to a song that was written way back in 1779. This hymn is one of the most recognizable songs of the English speaking world. It is estimated to be performed about 10 million times every year somewhere in the world. It's also quite a preferred choice at commemorative services.

Anyone guess the name of this great song? Right - "Amazing Grace."
Sing along with us.
