

Thank you.

Our next selection was written back in 1936 for a musical starring Eleanor Powell. Does anyone remember Eleanor? Later, it was recorded by Frank Sinatra, Ella Fitzgerald, and many other artists.

This is a tale about an individual with a problem with her epidermus. She says "I've Got You Under My Skin."