

Good evening. We're so very glad to be back with you again.

Tonight, we're again going to take a journey down memory lane and revisit some of the biggest hit songs from yesteryear. Our opening number, "Wabash Cannonball," was originally a folk song, written back in the 1800s. More recently, it was a favorite of Tennessee Ernie Ford, Woody Guthrie, and The Moody Brothers.

Our next selection was written way back in 1882, but Doris Day brought it back with a novelty version in 1951. See if you remember this one. It's called "Sweet Violets." And pay close attention to the story that _____ will be telling.
