

Thank you very much.

Our next song is really not a Broadway hit song, but it's close. Whenever we play an evening of music for you, we like to include a polka, since it's a type of music that is near and dear to my heart. As you may know, I'm of Czech lineage, and the polka is the national dance of my homeland, the Czech Republic.

So, I arranged a song that is regularly played in a great showtime establishment in Los Angeles - Disneyland. It's a tune that's played on a beautiful water ride called "It's A Small World." How many of you have taken that ride?

Great! So here's our version of that song. We call it the "Small World Polka."
