

Thank you. How was that? Did you enjoy this trio of “blue” songs?

For our next selection, we’re going to take a journey down one of the most famous highways in America. Before our system of interstate highways, this road ran from Chicago to Los Angeles, by way of Missouri, Oklahoma, a bit of Texas, then through New Mexico and Arizona, before finally ending in California.

Anyone remember the name of this famous highway? Right - “Route 66.” So, hop in your car and let’s get motoring!
