

Thank you very much.

As you know, Gene Autry really became famous through his movies. His film career began in 1934 and continued for 21 years through 1955. He was the first of singing cowboys in films and made over 50 B Western films.

Our next Gene Autry song is a classic western folk song sometimes called the “unofficial anthem” of the American West. I like to imagine that Gene would have sung this song many times while riding across the prairie on his horse. What was the name of Gene’s horse? Yes, you got it - Champion.

You all know this song, so please join with _____ in singing this classic Gene Autry favorite, “Home On The Range.”
