

Thank you very much.

This next song was written back in the 1800's and tells a melancholy tale of an individual who is leaving a location in the panhandle of Texas. The song was recorded by Marty Robbins, one of the most popular and successful country and western singers of all time for most of his near four-decade career.

_____ and I will join together now to tell you this story about this citizen who is about to be a former resident of "The Red River Valley."
