

Thank you very much.

We'll slow up the tempo for this next song which was written for the Amy Heckerling movie - "Loser" - but the scene it was meant for was deleted. One person has described this song as like a wedding song where all of the obstacles and heartbreaks have happened for a singular reason: To bring her loved one to her. And for that reason, she believes that this is the luckiest she has been and ever will be in her life.

Here's _____ to sing this great song of love, "The Luckiest."
