

Thank you. Thank you very much. How're we doing? Did you enjoy our tribute to Jo Stafford?

We'll really switch moods with this next selection, recorded by Bing Crosby back in 1936. It's a comic cowboy song, and it was also recorded by such artists as Roy Rogers, Johnnie Ray, Frank Sinatra, and a bunch of others.

Listen as I tell you the story of an individual who has aspirations to be something that he is probably is not. It's title - "I'm An Old Cowhand."
