

Thank you.

Wow! That was a bit different, right? Well, that'll be the nature of things with our carols this evening. They'll be a little different from what you would expect to sing in church or out caroling. We hope you will enjoy the variety.

For our next offering, we'll select a carol written back in 1868 by an Episcopal priest in Philadelphia, Phillips Brooks, and his church organist, Lewis Redner. Reverend Brooks was inspired after visiting the village of Bethlehem in 1865. Here's _____ with our version of "O Little Town Of Bethlehem."
