

Thank you. Did you enjoy our tribute to Bing Crosby?

Now,, we'll go backward in time a couple of decades, back to 1936 and a movie featuring Charlie Chaplin. Remember Charlie? He wrote the music for our next selection, and the lyrics ask the listener to cheer up because there's always a brighter tomorrow.

In 1995, a very famous singer, Michael Jackson, recorded the song for his double album. You remember Michael, don't you? What a tragedy that he should have died so young.

Listen and enjoy this classical favorite - Smile.
