

Thank you.

Our next Latin American selection originally had a different title when it was composed in 1965. It's title then was "Moon Over Naples." It became a hit single in 1966 and spent four weeks atop the Billboard Easy Listening chart in early 1966. The song was performed by Elvis Presley, Engelbert Humperdinck, and Wayne Newton, and it was even sung by Homer Simpson of the Simpsons.

Here is "Spanish Eyes."
