

Thank you.

Now, We'll jump forward in time to 1940 and play a song written by Jimmy Van Heusen and Johnny Burke. It was first recorded by a couple of pretty good dance bands in the 1940s - the Glenn Miller Orchestra and the Tommy Dorsey Orchestra. By the way, both of these band leaders played the same kind of instrument. What was it? Right - the trombone.

OK. Here We go with our Version of "Imagination"
