

Thank you.

We're going to switch beats now and play a Latin American tune that Helen O-Connell and Bob Eberly sang with the Jimmy Dorsey orchestra in the early 40s. The song tells the story of a beautiful lady with eyes of a rather intriguing color.

Here is "Green Eyes."