

Thank you. Thank you very much.

Back in 1942, the Brian Sisters, a trio of teenage girls, recorded a song that became their only major hit. It was the tale of a jivin' spook in Tin Pan Alley that walked on the piano keys and produced an irresistible new rhythm. He was known as the "Boogie Woogie Boogie Man."

Here's _____ to tell us all about him.