

Thank you very much.

Well, as I look at the clock, we're almost to the magic hour of saying goodbye to the old year and welcoming in the new year. It's only a few seconds away now. So, please join us in the countdown. Ready? Here we go!

Thank you very much.

We'd like to deviate from our usual routine and play an encore number for you now. Is that OK with you? (Response)

Good. For our encore, we'll present a torch song from the Broadway musical "Dreamgirls," in which Effie says to her agent and loved one, "And I'm Telling You, I'm Not Going."

Here's _____ with our version of this moving song.

Thank you.

We'd like to deviate from our usual routine and play an encore number for you now. Is that OK with you? (Response) Good. For our encore, we'll invite our vibraphonist Mike to the forefront to play a very unusual instrument - a cup! The song is from the movie "Pitch Perfect." The name of the song is "When I'm Gone," and _____ will sing it, accompanied by Mike on his cup. Take it away, Mike.

Thank you.

We'd like to deviate from our usual routine and play an encore number for you now. Is that OK with you? (Response) Good. The name of this song is "If We Hold On Together." It's especially meaningful in view of the circumstances of today. We'd like to dedicate this song to everyone currently afflicted by the coronavirus, those who are currently in quarantine, and those on the front line who risk their lives for our safety and survival. Stay strong everyone.

Ready, _____?

Thank you.

We'd like to deviate from our usual routine and play an encore number for you now. Is that OK with you? (Response) Good.

The name of this song is "Don't Let The Old Man In" It's especially meaningful to all of us in our present stage of life, and it offers some good advice on how we should conduct ourselves at this time. I hope you'll enjoy it.

Thank you.

We'd like to deviate from our usual routine and play an encore number for you now. Is that OK with you? (Response) Good.

The name of this song is "How Sweet It Is" by recorded by Marvin Gaye in 1965. Up to that point, it was Gaye's most successful recording. I hope you'll enjoy it.

Thank you.

Here's a beautiful song from the 1998 DreamWorks musical "The Prince Of Egypt," composed by Stephen Schwartz. Whitney Houston and Mariah Carey had recordings. The song "When You Believe" describes ones' ability to achieve miracles when one reaches out to God and believes.

We hope you enjoy our version.

Thank you.

This next song is the title song of an album by Sandi Patti “Another Time, Another Place,” produced in 1990. It reached #1 on the Christian AC chart and won a GMA Dove award as well as Song Of The Year.

We hope you enjoy our version of this beautiful song.