

Thank you.

Our final Ella Fitzgerald hit was written way back in 1924 by George and Ira Gershwin for a Broadway show of the same title. Ella's 1947 recording of the song was notable for her "scat" solo, a type of singing where she imitated the sound of an ad lib instrumentalist.

Here we go with Ella's big hit - "Lady Be Good."