Now, here's a song recorded by the Four Aces in 1955, and it won the Academy Award that year. I'm sure that you'll agree that Valentine's Day is the perfect time to remember that "Love Is A Many Splendored Thing."

We'll play a waltz for our next number, made famous by Patti Page and later by Les Paul and Mary Ford. You all know the traditional version, but recently the song was revived by a couple of pop artist of today - Bonnie Raitt and Nora Jones. You may not know them, but they sing very, very well.

We'll follow their lead and play it for you in their new style. Here we go with the "Tennessee Waltz."

We're going to slow things down a bit with this next selection. It was written back in 1930 and became a jazz standard. The most famous recording was by a tenor saxophonist by the name of Coleman Hawkins. Does anyone remember him? This song was one of the first jazz records to become a commercial hit.

Here's our version of "Body And Soul."

The musical score consists of two staves of music. The top staff is for the keyboard, showing a treble clef, a key signature of one flat, and a common time. The bottom staff is for the vocal part, also in treble clef, one flat key signature, and common time. The music is divided into measures by vertical bar lines. Chords are indicated above the staff at the beginning of each measure. The vocal part includes lyrics corresponding to the chords. Measure numbers are provided on the left side of the vocal staff.

We'll slow things up a bit now with a beautiful ballad, written by Don McLean and made very popular by a pretty good male vocalist by the name of Perry Como. Elvin Presley, Johnny Mathis, Howard Keel, Glen Campbell, and many others have recorded it.

Our next selection has two titles. It was written and recorded by John Denver in July, 1974, and it was his second #1 song in the US. It also achieved that same position in the UK.

Here we go with “Annie’s Song,” but you’ll probably remember it more easily by its other title - “You Fill Up My Senses.”

Wow! We're nearly at the end of our Valentine's Day observance. For our next-to-last song, we'll journey to the year 1968 and a song which won four Grammy Awards that year. Glen Campbell's version has received more than 5 million plays on the radio and was the theme song of his TV show between 1969 and 1972.

Here's _____ with a nice thought for her favorite Valentine.
