

Thank you very much.

Our next song was written and performed by that great country music entertainer, Miss Dolly Parton. It garnered her nominations for the Academy Award, four Grammy awards, and was the theme song of a movie with the same title as the song. It became something of an anthem for office workers in the US in the late 1980s. Elizabeth Warren frequently used this song during her 2020 presidential campaign.

Here's _____ with our version of this working girl's lament - "Nine To Five."
