

Good evening. We're so very glad to be back with you again. It's nice to see so many familiar faces here in the audience.

Tonight, we're again going to take a journey down memory lane and revisit some of the biggest hit songs from yesteryear. Our opening number was Fine And Dandy. It was written back in 1929 for a Broadway musical of the same name.

Our next selection was written way back in 1918, but some of the more notable recordings by Doris Day, Les Brown, and Frank Fontaine were made in the 50s.

_____ and I will join together in this one about a favorite pastime back in those days. The song is "I'm Forever Blowing Bubbles."
