

Thank you very much.

For our next number, we'll feature a western song written back in 1975, warning mothers not to let their children become cowboys because of the tough and busy life of cowboy culture. Waylon Jennings and Willie Nelson covered the song on their 1978 duet album "Waylon & Willie." This rendition peaked at No. 1 in March 1978.

_____ and I will join our voices now in dispensing some good advice: "Mammas, Don't Let Your Babies Grow Up To Be Cowboys."
